WELCOME

Dear Volunteer:

Welcome to Richland Library's Volunteer Program! I am so pleased that you are interested in volunteering with the library.

Our vision is to improve the quality of life for everyone who interacts with the library. To be successful, we rely on the effort and commitment of our volunteers. Volunteers are an important resource and their accomplishments make significant contributions to the library.

In this handbook you will find the essential information you need to learn about our volunteer opportunities and the resources you will need to get started.

Application: You will be asked to complete an online application in Richland Library's volunteer management system (CERVIS). The initial step is to create a profile in CERVIS, then apply for a specific assignment or "open project".

Interview: After the application is received, you will be contacted for an interview if there is a vacancy that matches your availability. . Most applicants will be called or emailed for the interview at the location where the volunteer service will take place. Interviews usually take 30 minutes. If all agree that the volunteer and placement are a good fit for each other, the next step is the orientation. Potential volunteers should review the online manual prior to the interview <https://www.richlandlibrary.com/volunteer>.

Screening: Library staff may contact references provided on the volunteer application. Some volunteer positions require Richland Library to conduct background checks with the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division and the South Carolina Department of Social Services.

Orientation and Training: Normally the orientation and training will be at the site of service. All volunteers must participate in the orientation and training processes prior to service.

Thank you for donating your time and talents to Richland Library. We look forward to the contributions you will make to our continued growth and success.

Sincerely,

Katy Watkins, CVA
Volunteer Coordinator

VOLUNTEER PROGRAM POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Attendance

Each library location will work with individual volunteers to establish a mutually agreeable schedule. Volunteer schedules ensure that the library has the coverage needed to complete the daily work of the library and provide excellent personalized service to our customers. Your work is important but we do understand that travel, vacations, appointments, illness, etc. interfere with volunteer service.

Volunteers are expected to abide by their schedule and to notify their direct supervisor in the event of a change at the earliest opportunity.

Behavior

As a volunteer, you are representing Richland Library to the public. All volunteers are expected to behave in a professional manner, especially when addressing library customers or staff.

Confidentiality

Any information regarding customers and their use of the library is confidential and should not be shared. In the same spirit, the library honors the confidentiality of information regarding volunteers.

Official Statements

Any official statement involving Richland Library must receive approval from the Community Relations Department. The official statement may cover - but is not limited to - the library's policies, procedures, resources, services or programs. If approached by the media, volunteers should respond by saying, "I don't feel as though I am the best person to address this topic. Please contact Richland Library's Community Relations Department for more information."

Social Media Policy

Richland Library appreciates the importance of online social networking opportunities for promoting Library goals and maintaining relevance. To that end, the Richland Library Marketing and Digital Strategy Department manages a social media strategy that incorporates strategic timing of social media "posts" as well as public engagement in order reach customers and grow the positive impact of the Richland Library brand.

When posting on these social networks and other online forums, the distinction between an individual's personal brand/identity and the Library's may become blurred. In order to keep that distinction as clear as possible, and support the library's branding and marketing efforts, Richland Library volunteers are encouraged to share or re-post/tweet the library's existing messages to your Facebook, YouTube, LinkedIn, Twitter and/or Instagram accounts. And, when posting, please ensure that all posts follow Richland Library Volunteer Program Policies and Procedures. Be careful not to post any proprietary (including logo and trademarks) content or disrespectful posts.

Screening

Location staff will interview the volunteer to determine if the library is a good match for the individual's interest and library's need for volunteer service. Library staff may contact references provided on the volunteer application to assist with screening. Some volunteer positions require the library to conduct background checks with the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division and South Carolina Department of Social Services.

Orientation and Training

All volunteers are expected to review the volunteer manual prior to the interview (<https://www.richlandlibrary.com/volunteer>). If placed as a volunteer, location staff will provide the required volunteer orientation and training.

Recognition

Volunteer contributions enable the library to extend and expand its services. As a thank you to our volunteer contributions, we recognize the volunteers in several ways to include: volunteer appreciation activities, volunteer recognition events; and selection of our Richland Library Volunteers of the Year.

Richland Library facilitates the Richland Library Hall of Fame to recognize individual volunteers (both adult and youth) who have shown long term support for the library and are deserving of special recognition. On an annual basis, adult volunteers are nominated who have reached either 1,500 hours or 15 years of service. Each winner's name is displayed in the Main Library and recognized at the annual volunteer awards event. Other adult and youth volunteers can be added by a special nomination.

An additional benefit for volunteers is the fee waiver for volunteers who live outside of Richland County. Currently, the non-resident fee is $65. Once a volunteer has reached 150 hours (or one year) and continues to volunteer at least 50 hours per year, the volunteer may request a waiver of the non-resident fee.

Volunteer Verification Requests for Employment and Educational Purposes

Supervisors of volunteers can provide references for educational and employment purposes. References include verification of service, length of service and personal experience with volunteer. Persons providing references should include a statement that their personal reflection does not reflect views and opinions of Richland Library. Please allow up to seven working days to respond to all volunteer verification requests.

Volunteers can access reports of their volunteer service themselves. To learn how please view tutorial at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=p6mtlXplfXQC>.

Tax Benefits

When completing annual tax forms, citizens who meet the federal requirements, can itemize volunteer expenses such as bus fare, gas or parking fees. Information is available from the IRS (www.irs.gov), the South Carolina Department of Revenue, a tax advisor, accountant or attorney. Please contact your tax advisor for advice on deductibles relevant to you. None of this information is to be taken as official tax or legal advice.

Breaks

Staff lounges or other designated areas are available to volunteers for a break if a volunteer works a significant number of hours. It is the responsibility of the volunteer supervisor to inform volunteers of these locations. Eating and drinking at the library should be confined to these designated areas. The volunteer should speak with the supervisor to schedule a break during the volunteer time.

Parking

For the Main Library, parking is generally available in the lower customer parking lot behind the library at Park and Washington Streets. Parking at meters is free after 6:00 p.m. and on the weekends.

Volunteers at branch libraries will receive parking instructions from their supervisor.

Smoking

Smoking on library property is not permitted.

Beverages and Food

Volunteers should use beverage containers that can be sealed to prevent spillage and only consumed in approved areas. Bringing food into the library is not permitted. Those volunteers who require a snack break should discuss options with their volunteer supervisor. Breaks are usually reserved for those who work three or more hours at one time.

Personal Appearance

Please remember you represent the library when you wear your nametag. Volunteers should dress neatly in clean and presentable clothing. T-shirts with inappropriate messages, hats (unless approved), short skirts and shorts, torn clothing, low cut tops, and other revealing garments are not allowed. All representatives of the library, must present a professional appearance to the public. Volunteers deemed not appropriately dressed by staff will be informed and sent home to return for the next regularly scheduled shift. Because of the nature of the work we do we suggest you wear comfortable, closed toe shoes to avoid injury.

Cell Phones and Other Electronic Devices

We want you to perform to your highest ability and focus on your assigned tasks. Cell phones and all other electronic/digital devices should not be in use during your volunteer session. With approval from the volunteer supervisor, volunteers working in non-public areas may be permitted to use devices with earbuds. Please let your volunteer supervisor know if there are urgent personal or special circumstances that require your use of the phone while you are volunteering at the library. Please also store your devices safely. The Library is not responsible for lost or stolen personal devices.

Library Telephones

Library telephones are used to conduct library business. Local personal calls, either incoming or outgoing, are not allowed unless approved by the volunteer supervisor.

Inclement Weather and Emergencies

There are times when a library may be closed due to inclement weather or other emergency. The volunteer should call the library for which they are volunteering if there is any question about the open hours of the building. The Library will make every effort to notify volunteers of any inclement weather closings. Information will also be posted on the website and on the main library general information line (803-799-9084).

Safety

Richland Library does not carry or maintain health, medical, or disability insurance for volunteers. Injuries that occur to library volunteers while at the library are not covered under the South Carolina Worker's Compensation Law. If you are injured while volunteering at the Library, notify your supervisor immediately to complete an incident report. The library does have a general liability insurance policy.

In the event of a fire drill or actual fire, leave the building immediately using the exit designated for the location/department. Emergency exit floor charts are located in each department. Also, use the stairs rather than the elevator or escalator. In the event of a tornado, follow the instructions from your supervisor.

Please stay aware of your surroundings and if you notice anything of concern, alert staff and/or security. If you are uncomfortable walking to your car, please ask a member of security to escort you to your car.

Volunteers working one on one with customers and feel that the customer is being hurt, harming themselves, or engaging in illegal activity must report their concern to their volunteer supervisor and security. Volunteers can also report their concern of child abuse or neglect to Richland County Department of Social Services.

Customers and staff who feel a volunteer's behavior or actions are aggressive, harmful, sexual or illegal must report their concerns to library staff and security. Following an investigation, law enforcement will be requested if necessary and the volunteer terminated.

During a public health emergency, health and safety protocols are put into place in order to maintain safety for all. Richland Library asks that you be gracious and understanding as we work through keeping processes and protocols updated with safety the number one priority. The library follows guidance from the Center of Disease Control (CDC) and local health district guidelines.

Corrective Action

Corrective action may be taken if the volunteer's work is unsatisfactory. Corrective action is within the discretion of the Location Manager, Volunteer Coordinator or Volunteer Supervisor and may include:

- Verbal discussion;
- Additional coaching;
- Transfer to another location or volunteer position;
- Possible suspension, and/or;
- Dismissal from the volunteer program.

Refusal and Dismissal

Library staff has the right to refuse or dismiss a volunteer. Volunteers who do not adhere to the policies and procedures of the program are subject to dismissal. Active volunteers who violate any Richland Library policy or do not competently fulfill their volunteer duties after a reasonable amount of training and supervision will be dismissed. If you miss your first scheduled day or if two absences occur without notification will be considered as a resignation from your volunteer position and/or dismissal. Dismissal is within the discretion of the Volunteer Supervisor, Branch/Department Manager and/or Volunteer Coordinator.

Possible grounds for dismissal include, but are not limited to:

- Gross misconduct or insubordination;
- Being under the influence of alcohol or drugs;

CHILDREN'S USE OF THE LIBRARY

POLICY SUBJECT: Children's Use of the Library
SUPERSEDED: 9/10/2001
ISSUED DATE: 6/11/2012

BOARD APPROVED: 6/11/2012
EFFECTIVE DATE: 6/11/2012

RICHLAND LIBRARY Major Objectives of the Policy Are:

- To increase community awareness of the function and purpose of the library.
- To encourage and maintain appropriate, orderly, and equitable use of the library for all patrons.
- To communicate the library's concern for the safety and welfare of the children of our community.
- To clarify staff response to difficult situations involving unattended children.

General Information:

Children and adults are equally welcome and encouraged to use the services of the library. The basic function and responsibility of the youth services program is to encourage and facilitate the use of the library by parents, children, students, and adults working with children. Collections of children's books and materials, a variety of programs, and trained staff are available at the main library and the branch libraries in the Richland County Library system. It is not the library's function or purpose to be a care center for children while parents or other supervising adults are elsewhere inside or outside the library.

In Order To Maintain A Safe, Orderly And Proper Environment For Library Use, The Following Policy Is In Effect:

- Parents or caregivers are responsible for the behavior, safety and supervision of their children at all times in the library and on library premises.
- Parents or caregivers must provide such reasonable supervision of their children as is appropriate based on the age and level of responsibility of each child.
- The library staff is not responsible for the safety, care, or supervision of children of any age, whether in the library or on library premises.
- Children age 10 and younger must be accompanied by an individual age 16 or older at all times and in all areas of the library except when participating in a library sponsored program. During programs, parents or caregivers of children age 10 and younger must remain in the library.
- Parents or caregivers should be aware of library opening and closing times and make suitable arrangements to meet and/or transport their children. Library staff is not responsible for the care and supervision of children prior to opening or after closing of the library. Law enforcement will be notified in the event of an unattended child at closing time.
- Staff will not transport children home or to any other destination under any circumstances.
- If the library must close in an emergency, library staff will make an effort to alert parents to make sure children will be picked up.
- Parents should not direct their children to the library in the event of emergency school closings in that the same conditions that have caused a school closing will probably also affect library operations.
- Children, like all other library users, are required to respect library property and to act in a manner appropriate to the use and function of the library.
- Children engaging in disruptive or inappropriate behavior may be asked to leave the library. Law enforcement will be requested if necessary.
- Parents or caregivers should be aware that the behavior of young children may at times be disturbing to other patrons; in this event, staff may request that they temporarily remove their children from the library to ease the situation
